HUNDREDS OF HEROINES

Elisabeth Thoma

The series of photos deals with the local bavarian tuning scene (rural area) I was there for more than half a year in 2018.

I have a lot more than this, but just to give you a short introduction.

It's more about the cars themselves with their typical designs and characteristics.

The people (mostly men) often hiding behind their cars! So this one guy on a photo is one of 6 people i interviewed and took some photos of.

This was my final exam for my studies so i made a book with the photographs out of it!
